

SCOTT AMBITIOUS FOR CHAIRMANSHIP; NEW MAY GET IT

West Virginia Senator's
Attitude Excites
Talk.

Vice President Fairbanks
Believed to Be His Candidate.

Southerner's Try for Place of Influence Stirs
Roosevelt Camp.

That Harry New, of Indiana, now vice chairman of the Republican national committee, will be made the acting chairman of the committee on the retirement of George B. Cortelyou from the chairmanship is said in high quarters to be settled.

The fact Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia wants to be Mr. Cortelyou's successor is exciting much talk in political circles and many conjectures as to whether Mr. Scott will become head of the committee when Mr. Cortelyou goes to the Treasury. It is realized that large Presidential politics hang on the question of the succession.

The best information, however, is that, while Mr. Scott wants to be the head of the committee Mr. New is the man who will become acting chairman and the real head of the committee following Mr. Cortelyou. Having served as acting chairman, Mr. New will be in excellent position to secure the chairmanship when the committee elects a chairman to serve through the Presidential campaign.

Cortelyou Non-Committal.
Postmaster General Cortelyou when approached on the subject yesterday was non-committal. He refused to discuss the question of who would be the new head of the committee.

Mr. Cortelyou will retire from the chairmanship before he becomes head of the Treasury Department to succeed Leslie M. Shaw. He will give up the chairmanship about the same time.

There have been reports that Mr. Cortelyou would give up the chairmanship at an early date in order to remove the chairmanship tenure as a ground of criticism on the part of those members of the Senate that oppose his confirmation. Mr. Cortelyou has no intention of doing this. His friends say that to give up the chairmanship before he is confirmed would be to yield to the criticism of himself for retaining the chairmanship. He does not propose to be put in the light of admitting that criticism is justified.

Scott's Move Interpreted.
Surpassing interest surrounds the movement of Senator Scott to get to the head of the committee. It indicates clearly that a campaign is on to get control of the committee in the interest of an anti-Roosevelt candidate. Senator Scott is generally believed to be interested in the candidacy of Vice President Fairbanks. Senator Scott admits saying that he favored Fairbanks, Cannon or Shaw. All these men are generally recognized as not friendly to the Roosevelt way of conducting the administration, as not well disposed toward the Roosevelt policies. Moreover, of the three, Vice President Fairbanks is the only one whose candidacy is making progress, so that it is generally taken for granted Senator Scott, if head of the committee, would do all in his power to advance the interests of Fairbanks.

Scott With Foraker.
The fact that Senator Scott has aligned himself with Senator Foraker and other opponents of the administration in the Brownsville matter is taken as an indication that he has no purpose to advance the interests either of Mr. Roosevelt or any man of the Roosevelt type who might want the Presidency. The friends of Secretary Taft, for instance, would not feel easy if they knew Senator Scott was head of the committee.

The fact is, the Fairbanks boom has been making great progress in the past year. By gumshoe methods the Vice President has already got a good lead on his competitors for the Presidency. The White House is aware of the energy with which the Fairbanks movement is being quietly pressed, and the administration and its friends are sitting up and taking notice and saying among themselves that the time has arrived to do something to hold Fairbanks in check.

This in itself is sufficient reason why Senator Scott will not be put at the head of the committee.

The prostration, the fever, heat and restlessness are greater than in a Common Cold. "Seventy-seven" contains a remedy for each symptom, relief in every dose. If you will keep "Seventy-seven" handy (it fits the vest pocket) and take it promptly, you will not have to lay up, but can keep about your business, this appeals to busy people.

head of the committee if the President can help it, or any other man will be placed in Mr. Cortelyou's place who is regarded as leaning toward the Vice President.

Mr. Cortelyou's policy as national chairman since the 1904 election has been to do nothing for or against any Presidential candidate. If Harry New is head of the committee following Mr. Cortelyou, he will follow the same policy.

As to the location of the convention, a matter to be discussed when the committee meets next December, several cities are aspirants for the honor of entertaining it. Chicago is perennially after it. St. Louis wants it; so does Minneapolis. That remarkably enterprising port on the Pacific, Seattle, is understood to be in quest of it, and so is Tacoma. No Eastern cities, so far as known, have made a move to capture it.

BARONESS IS AT REST IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Remarkable scenes of mourning were witnessed today at the interment of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, when the great philanthropist was laid to rest in Westminster Abbey. Blinds in all houses along the route from the late residence of the baroness, in Stratton street, were drawn and great crowds stood with heads uncovered. Among the pallbearers were Prince Francis of Teck, the Duke of Argyll, the Duke of Wellington, and Viscount Peel. The royal family sent representatives to the abbey.

FOR EXPLORATION OF CASA GRANDE

Officials of Smithsonian Institution Believe Ruins Contain Wonders.

Seek an Additional Sum From Congress to Continue the Search.

Acting Secretary Richard Rathbun, of the Smithsonian Institution, is calling on Congress for an appropriation for the protection of the Casa Grande ruin in Arizona and the continuation of investigations. In a communication on the subject submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, which Mr. Shaw in turn has sent to the House, Mr. Rathbun predicts that if the investigations are completed they will result in uncovering one of the most interesting objects of antiquity in the United States, an American Pompeii for eighteenth-century ruins, and an object lesson for students of American archaeology and history.

Location of Compound.
This new American Pompeii will be located, Mr. Rathbun says, twelve miles from the Santa Fe railroad and eighteen from the Southern Pacific. It is located in Pinal county, Arizona, near the town of Florence. The Casa Grande group of mounds is composed of three walled clusters of buildings or compounds, now for the most part buried in the earth and much greater in extent than has been realized. With a $1000 appropriation made by the last session, the walls of one of these compounds, 49 by 25 feet, can be partially excavated and protected.

The Smithsonian is seeking this session an additional appropriation of $3,000 to carry on the work still further. Such an appropriation will make possible the excavation of a second compound, still larger than the one which will be excavated by the use of the appropriation of last session. It appears that last session, when the preliminary appropriation was made, it

Patrol Drivers' Plea Gets Commissioner's Ear

Twenty-six patrol drivers, who, because they are not officially regarded as members of the Metropolitan Police Department, were excluded from benefits under the police reorganization act passed at the last session of Congress, have petitioned the District Commissioners that their salaries may be increased from $600 to $720 a year. Major Richard Sylvester, through whom the petition was submitted to the Commissioners, recommended $720 as commensurate with the drivers' services. Instead of $900, which the latter thought themselves entitled to.

Commissioner West, under whose jurisdiction the Police Department comes, states that the plea of the drivers will be considered in connection with the preparation of the next annual estimates.

Stop Drinking!

Orrine Destroys all Desire for Drink How to "Swear Off."

One out of every seven drinking men swear off religiously at New Year's but how few of the good resolutions are carried out.

WHY NOT?
Because the continual drinking in the past has weakened the nerve cells of the human system until the craving for drink has fastened itself so strongly that temptation cannot be resisted.

Thousands of persons who really want to quit the use of whiskey and beer realize that they cannot do so without medical help, yet they cannot afford the time or perhaps the money to go to a sanatorium. Happily a cure for drunkenness has been discovered which is to be taken at home and costs less than the average drinker will spend in a day for drink.

Mothers, wives and sisters can give Orrine without the patient's knowledge. Orrine No. 1 is to be given secretly. It is perfectly tasteless, colorless and odorless. Orrine No. 2 is for those willing to take the remedy. Either form costs but $1 per box. Mail orders filled on receipt of price.
